

Affiliate commissions that pay themselves, settled in USDC on Solana.

Bryan Kwandou, founder · Colosseum Crypto World's Fair

PROBLEM

Amazon pays its affiliates about 60 days after the month closes.

60 days

WHY BRANDS WAIT

Brands hold commissions
because one in five online
orders comes back.

19.3%

of US online sales were expected to be returned in 2025

Source: National Retail Federation, 2025 returns report [S2]

PRODUCT

Each sale reserves the creator's cut where the brand can't spend it.

Follow one commission

commish · usdc

Sale recorded

Held

Paid out

Sold early

Order

Order #4821 · 250.00 USDC

Commission at 10%

25.00 USDC

Payee

Creator

Unreserved budget

175.00 / 200.00

7

Refund window

7 days left. 25.00 USDC is reserved in the campaign vault. The brand can't withdraw it, and a refund inside the window cancels it.

Let the window close →

⚡ Cash out early

The commission card on getcommish.vercel.app, held inside the refund window

WHY BRANDS OPT IN

Affiliates pick programs that pay reliably. Commish makes that provable.

73%

of affiliates in crypto, forex and gambling programs switch mainly over payout reliability

Source: PerformanceIN 2025 survey of 3,200 affiliates, via TheFinRate [S8]

IN USE

Record the sale, hold it through the window, then release.

Record

The brand's server signs it. The program sets the cut from the campaign rate.

Hold

A refund inside the window cancels it.

Release

Anyone can trigger it. USDC goes only to the payee.

EARLY PAYOUT

A creator who can't wait sells the commission for cash today.

Creator, paid today

24.25 USDC

Buyer, paid at release

25.00 USDC

Example: a 25.00 USDC commission sold at a 3% discount. Illustration, not outside data.

HOW IT WORKS

One 9,296-byte program enforces the rules, and 26 tests attack them.

RULE

ON-CHAIN CHECK

Owed money stays locked

Withdrawals stop at the reserved amount

One order, one commission

Address derived from the order hash

Payouts can't be redirected

Destination must belong to the payee

Source: `program/` in github.com/bryankwandou/commish; base fee [S6]

WHO ELSE

At least eight Solana affiliate projects entered Colosseum before us. None placed.

PROJECT	WHAT IT OFFERED
SuperLink	Revenue share via Blinks
Earnify	Web3 affiliate dashboard
Sendit	Marketplace with affiliates
Redio	Instant affiliate payouts
Coinfiliate	USDC rewards to shoppers
Three more	Blinks Deals, Traxeo, Reflink

Source: Colosseum Copilot API and Arena, 2026-09-27 [S7]

MARKET

US brands will spend $13.81 billion on affiliate
marketing in 2026.

$13.81B

Our plan is a 1% fee on each payout. If 1% of that spend settled here, that is $1.38M a year.

Source: eMarketer forecast via Post Affiliate Pro [S3]. Fee and share are team plan, not outside data.

TEAM

Built by a creator who gets paid on other people's schedules.

- Bryan Kwandou: NFT artist on Objkt and Drip, Shutterstock contributor
- Informatics at Atma Jaya Makassar; Superteam campus lead
- Wrote the program, the app and the 26 tests, all public

NEXT

Next: ten Solana brands run their creator payouts through Commish.

Sep 2026

Program and app built, 26 tests pass

Oct 2026

Mainnet deploy and the first live campaign

Q4 2026

Ten pilots with Solana apps that already pay creators

2027

Audit, then a Shopify integration through order webhooks

Source: team plan, not outside data